The Booth Family – 930 Penn Avenue

Downtown living is an increasingly viable option for young families who crave the urban experience. Downtown Pittsburgh is the new playground for Eric, Rachel and their son Mason. The Booths traded the plush suburbs of Maryland in May 2008 for a city setting where they are surrounded by culture, beauty, convenience and a variety of amenities. Downtown – the center, the core and the heart of it all – is where this family is planting their roots.
